AMFS alumni and frequent visitors as both artist-faculty and guest artists, the Jupiter String Quartet's Armchair Concert features a program of personal favorites, including a movement of Florence Price's Five Folksongs in Counterpoint.

Alumni News

Bokyung Byun, AMFS guitar fellowship teaching assistant since 2016 to program director Sharon Isbin, and a Juilliard graduate, where she studied with Isbin (B.M. 2015/M.M. 2016), won First Prize in the 2021 Guitar Foundation of America (GFA) International Artist Competition. GFA is the world's most prestigious competition for classical guitar.

Byun's Grand Prize includes $10,000, a 50-concert tour throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico, Carnegie Hall debut recital, and a Naxos CD recording.

new assistant conductors, Jacob Joyce, an AMFS ACA alumnus, and Moon Doh.

“The Pittsburgh Symphony is delighted to welcome to the orchestra Moon Doh and Jacob Joyce, two exceptionally talented and highly acclaimed young conductors who bring diverse backgrounds and engaging personalities both to the podium and to the community,” said Melia Tourangeau, president and CEO.

Joyce will also share in conducting the Learning and Community Engagement concert programs and become music director of the Pittsburgh Youth Symphony Orchestra (PYSO).

Harmony Zhu piano was announced as a winner of the 2021 YCA Susan Wadsworth International Auditions.

Winners of the YCA International Auditions represent the future of classical music. Throughout their tenure, emerging artists benefit from YCA's connections with the industry's managers, concert presenters, conductors of major orchestras, and financial supporters, as well as its long-standing reputation for discovering and furthering the careers of extraordinary young artists.
